

CHARLES SIMEON INSTITUTE WELCOMES NEW ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR

The Rev'd Canon Dr. Michael W. Petty | Canon for Discipleship & Director of the Charles Simeon Institute

The writing below is taken from the Charles Simeon Institute's Quarterly Newsletter, The Old Apostle, Hilary Term 2023

Welcome to Jennifer Webster as Associate Director of the Charles Simeon Institute. When Kathleen Smith retired in December, I anticipated a long and challenging search process to find a successor. I needed to find a person with strong organizational skills, who works well with people, can serve as a mentor to seminary students, works well with the St. Peter's staff, and is dedicated to serving the Church. Before our search process got underway, God brought the perfect candidate to St. Peter's when Jennifer Webster moved to Tallahassee with her husband, Nate, and her daughter Islay. Jennifer is completing a Ph.D. in theology at the University of Cambridge and has a strong background in project management. Jennifer began work as Associate Director in February and has already begun to make preparations for the arrival of summer Fellows in May. She will also serve as Dean of the Charles Simeon Lay School of Theology and will be responsible for guiding and reshaping this program. We look forward to the LSOT's Eastertide Semester (April 19, 26; May 3, 10) in which both Jennifer and I will be teaching courses.

A NOTE FROM JENNIFER WEBSTER

I am honored to join the mission of the Charles Simeon Institute as its new Associate Director, where I will continue to build the summer fellowship program. As the first formal Dean of the LSOT, I will continue to develop curriculum and faculty members to disciple lay leaders at St. Peter's and other ACNA parishes. My husband Nate, our daughter Islay Rose, and I recently moved to Tallahassee after living in the UK since 2020. I am completing my Ph.D. in Theology at the University of Cambridge, St. John's College. I am passionate about educating Christians and congregations in theology and church history and see quality education as fundamental for developing healthy and whole followers of Jesus Christ. I hope to use these passions, my theological education, and my extensive background in project management to deepen and grow the missional outreach of CSI for the glory of God and the enrichment of the Anglican Church in North America.
