

You may notice several of your fellow parishioners and more than a few of our clergy are not here today.

WHERE ARE THEY?

Since Thursday, more than sixty cathedral members, clergy, and staff have been participating in the tenth New Wineskins Missionary Network Global Missions Conference at Ridgecrest Conference Center in Black Mountain, North Carolina. Most will be headed back to Tallahassee today, following a service of Holy Communion with fellow Anglicans from all over the globe.

OK, BUT WHAT IS IT?

Held every three years, the New Wineskins Conference is an intergenerational gathering of missional Christians, seeking to join God in His work to reach every tribe, tongue and nation. Through worship, prayer, teaching, and partnership, the New Wineskins Conference gathers cross-cultural workers, global partners, mission agencies, resource ministries, and the global Church to discover effective ways to collaborate with God and one another to fulfill the Great Commission.

From New Wineskins before the conference:

This year's theme, ONE MISSION will help us discover the new wineskins that will be required to fulfill our calling as followers of Jesus in these new global realities. As we congregate in North Carolina in 2022, our prayer is that we will not only re-engage relationally in one another's lives and ministries, but that we will experience an outpouring of the Holy Spirit on us as a unique, apostolic expression of the Body of Christ to BE the One, SEE the One and SHARE the One True God until all have heard!

While the next New Wineskins Conference is now three years away, in the next several weeks, we will be sharing more about this year's experience and the fruit it has already begun to yield in ministry opportunities for all of US, here at St. Peter's!

ST. PETER'S ARTISANS | GALLERY WALL ART

Have you seen the latest display on the Gallery Wall in the undercroft? Stop and admire artwork by Suzanna Reese Winton. She is a native Tallahasseean but spent her childhood years in neighboring Thomas County, Georgia where she continues to live. She credits her mother, a high school art teacher and artist as the biggest influence on her career. She studied commercial art with various professional artists at the Florida Art Center. It was there that she discovered her love for watercolor portraits. She began painting her own children and then was commissioned to paint others.

For 30 years, Suzanna has captured the essence of the human soul through her portraits. She has been the recipient of over 50 awards and has been featured in many national publications. She is a signature member of the National Watercolor Society, Florida Watercolor Society, Southern Watercolor Society, Watercolor West, and the Tallahassee Watercolor Society.

She has been the featured artist in many shows and has become internationally known for her informative portrait workshops; her published book, Realistic Watercolor Portraits; and art instructional videos. Suzanna teaches workshops for art supply companies, various art organizations and locally in her studio. In addition to her portraits, Suzanna enjoys painting wildlife and florals.
